.....(Petitioner) .....(Respondent)

In the Matter of : Application under section 33-C (2) of Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 for computing and for payment of dues Rs. 3,83,898/- which is payable.

Award/Order

The petitioner has filed an application under section 33-C (2) of I. D. Act, 1947 for computing and for recovery of dues against Respondents 1 to 3.

The facts as per the events which lead to filling of the present claim petition are summarized as under :ð

That the applicant was in the employment of Reliance Broadcast Network Ltd. (Formerly known as Adlabs Films Ltd.) and was appointed as Senior Executive Sales (Grade-E-2) vide letter dated 01-06-2006. The duties performed by the applicant during employment were as under :ð

(I) Booking of advertisement orders ;

(II) Making daily schedule for advertisement for advertisers ;

(III) To meet the client enquiries on daily basis ;

(IV) Payment collections and delivering bills to the clients on regular basis ;

(V) Collecting the advertisement details from clients and giving it to the Production Department for making audio ads ;

(VI) Taking the audio ads to the clients for approval ;

(VII) Reporting to the Station Head with daily reports.

Initially the annual salary of applicant was fixed for Rs. 2,00,000/- plus variable pay of Rs. 20,000/-. The applicant was confermed on 04-12-2006. Thereafter, the applicant was promoted and redesignated as Asstt. Manager, Sales on 15-05-2007 at an annual CTC (cost to company) of Rs. 3,24,000/- and Rs. 81,000/- as annual team bonus over and above the said CTC. Keeping in view the good performance of the applicant, the company/respondents revised the salary of the applicant to Rs. 5,67,100/- vide letter dated 30-04-2008 and the applicant was later redesignated as Asstt. Accounts, Sales Manager vide letter dated 01-11-2008.

That the applicant was issued different targets for the different financial years during his service with the company and the applicant achieved all the targets allotted to him. The respondent company appreciated the achievements of the applicant vide Orders/Letters dated 15-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 and he was also paid quarterly bonus/ performance pay for the financial year 2007-2008 but Annual Team Bonus amounting to Rs. 81000/- was withheld by the company with mala fide intentions.

That on 30th March, 2009 the applicant was forcibly made to resign from the company and the last day of working was 31st March, 2009. But after taking the forced resignation from the applicant, the respondent paid only three monthsô notice pay in lien of salary but did not paid the hard earned incentives of the applicant for the period he worked with the company and withheld that.

That the applicant achieved all the targets allotted to him by the respondent/company for the financial year 2008-2009. The applicant, after his forced resignation from the company was under legitimate expectation that he will be paid all the incentives/bonus which were payable vide letter dated 15-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 for the financial year 2007-2008 and 2008-2009 along with his full and final settlement. But the petitioner was shocked and surprised to receive a cheque of Rs. 50,642/- as full and final settlement from the respondent. The amount paid by the company was towards three monthsô salary of the applicant and that too, after deducting Rs. 14,175/- as advance sales incentive which was illegal, arbitrary and wrong.

That the applicant requested the respondents company to pay his hard earned incentives which form part of the terms of his employment payable to the applicant, many times on phone as well as through e-mails dated 23-06-2009 and 16-07-2009 but the respondent did not paid any heed to his requests and refused to pay. The applicant also sent a legal notice seeking payment of withheld incentives/bonus payable to the applicant on 27-07-2009 and also sent a reminder dated 07-10-2009 but the respondents did not paid the incentives.

That the applicant is entitled to the following incentives earned by him for financial year 2007-2008 as well as 2008-2009 and balance leave encashment :ð

(I)	Annual Team Bonus (2007-2008)	Rs. 81,000/-
(II)	Quarterly Bonus (2008-2009)	Rs. 56,700/-
(III)	Annual Individual Bonus (2008-2009)	Rs. l,41,800/-
(IV)	Annual Team Bonus (2008-2009)	Rs. 85,100/-
(V)	24.5 days balance leave encashment (2008-2009)	Rs. 19,298/-
	Total amount payable	Rs. 3,83,898/-

After registering the claim petitioner of the applicant the respondents company was duly summoned to file objections, on next date of hearing fixed for 02-05-2017. The respondents company filed objections through their learned counsel as under with the following observations :ð

(a) The applicant does not fall within the definition of workman.

(b) The petition is not maintainable as the applicant is claiming Bonus and the Bonus is not included in the definition of wages.

(c) The petition under section 33-C (2) is not maintainable as the labour court has no jurisdiction to decide present dispute relating to wages which falls under the third Schedule.

(d) The petitioner is not workman in view of the law laid down in HR Adyanathaya v/s. Sandoz (India) Ltd. (AIR 1994 SC 2608) as the petitioner was employed in Managerial capacity to earn business for the company in the shape of advertisement by sale of its airtime and the work of canvassing and promoting sales could not be included in any of classifications contained in the definition of workman.

(e) The labour court has no jurisdiction to adjudicate upon the claim of payment of wages or bonus which are not pre-existing or admitted or settled.

The respondents with the submission of the above mentioned objections denied any payment towards the applicant.

The applicant filed the counter objections rejoinder as under :-ð

a. That the petitioner is a ñworkmanò by virtue of performing jobs primarily relating to sales and other clerical jobs like making daily schedule for advertisement payment, collection, delivering bills etc. In support of his contention the applicant has referred S. 6 (2) of the Sales Promotion Employees (Condition of Service) Act, 1947, where under the sales promotion employee has been brought as par with the workman under the Industrial Disputes Act. Reference has been made to Ripu Daman Bhanot Vs. The P. O Labour Court (1997) ILLJ 557 PNH also (2001) ILLJ 559 Raj & also (2001) ILLJ 91 Raj the Reliance of the respondents on judgment titled HR Adyanathaya V/s. Sandoz (India) Ltd. (AIR 1994 SC 2608) is misconceived as in the said case the cause of action accrued to employees before the coming into force of Sales Promotion Employees Act, 1976. Kindly refer to para 28 to 31 & 35 of the said judgement.

b. That the petitioner was appointed as Sr. Sales Executive, Grade E2 initially in June, 2006 and redesignated as Asstt. Manager, Sales w. e. f. April, 2007 but, the nature of duties of the petitioner remained unchanged. Subsequently, in November, 2008 the petitioner was again redesignated as Asstt. Sales Account Manager, Grade E2 but during the employment of the petitioner with respondent company the job profile/nature of duties remained the same at initial appointment in June, 2006, the variable pay/performance pay of the petitioner was Rs. 20,000/- in April, 2007 the performance pay (quarterly) was Rs. 54,000/- further, Annual Team Bonus was Rs. 81,000/- for 2007-08. For the period of April, 2008-09 quarterly bonus was increased to Rs. 56,700/- annual individual bonus was newly added @ Rs. 1,41,800/- and Annual Team Bonus was enhanced to Rs. 85,100/- All these so called bonus were performance pay based on achievements of Sales Targets in given year. The letters dated 01-06-2006, 15-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 issued by the respondents company in favour of the applicant/petitioner has been refused. The applicant has submitted in his rejoinder that the performance pay paid to the sales Employees is covered in wages as defined in Sec. 2(rr) (iv) of the Industrial Disputes Act, and the said amount can be computed by the labour Court under Sec. 33-C(2) I. D. Act. The judgments delivered in (South Indian Bank Ltd. V/s. AR Chacko) A. I. R. 1959 and (South Arcot Electricity V/s. Elumalai & ors.) A. I. R. 1959, 401 in view of the said judgments, the objections of the respondent company with regard to lack of jurisdiction of the Labour Court under 33-C (2) is misconceived. As such, the Labour Court has jurisdiction to entertain and decide the application of the petitioner as the said benefits (performance pay) were part of cost to company (CTC) and form part of the company policy existing at the time of employment of the petitioner with the respondent company.

c. That the respondent company in its objection in para 4 has itself admitted that the petitioner was employed for promoting sales. With the coming into force of Sec. 6 (2) of Sales Promotion Employees Act the petitioner (Sales Employee) is to be treated as ñworkmanò. As such, the objection of the respondent company have no force to the extent that the petitioner does not fall in the definition of workman.

d. That the respondent company at para (5) of their objection have admitted that the Annual Team Bonus of Rs. 85,100/- was available to the petitioner for 2008-09 on performance basis but letters dated l5-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 issued by the respondent company makes it clear that the petitioner was entitled to quarterly bonus, annual individual bonus which the respondent company failed to pay to the petitioner.

e. That the petitioner had a pre-existing right in view of the letters dated 15-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 and other documents placed on record with the rejoinder.

The Respondents Company after filing their objections did not choose to appear before this Court/Tribunal though the Court awaited for them.

The Court finally in terms of order dated 1st June, 2015 respondents were set on ex parte. The petitioner/applicant was directed to adduce evidence in support of his claim petition in ex parte.

The applicant as his own witness was examined who has stated on affidavit that he was appointed by the respondent company employer No. 1 vide communication letter dated 01-06-2006 remained in continuously employment of the respondents company till dated 31-03-2009. However on 30th March, 2009 the petitioner was forcibly made to resign from the company and on 31st day of March, 2009 he was relieved from his job. The respondents threatened him that they will dismiss him from the company and if he himself did not resign and the applicant will loose all his monetary dues payable to applicant/employee and in case the applicant/ employee resigns, the company/respondents promised to pay the employee three months salary and all other incentives earned by the applicant/ petitioner. But after taking the forced resignation from the petitioner the company/respondent paid only three months salary but did not pay the hard earned incentives/bonus of the petitioner/employee to which he was entitled to as per terms of his employment. The applicant remained in employment of company/respondent from 01-06-2006 till 31st March, 2009 continuously and regularly and there was no break.

The applicant/petitioner requested the company/respondents to pay his hard earned incentives which form part of the wages payable to the petitioner, so many times on phone as well as through e-mail letters dated 23-06-2009 and a reminder on 16-07-2009 but the respondent did not paid any heed to his requests and refused to pay. The applicant/ petitioner also sent a large notice seeking payment of incentives/bonus payable to the applicant on 27-07-2009 and also sent a reminder dated 07-10-2009 but the respondents did not pay the incentives/bonus.

The respondent refused to pay the dues without assigning any reason and also refused to pay the deducted amount during my service period. Further, applicant in his written statement has further deposed that his job was like a clerical and field work to meet the clients on daily basis. The job was to manage the entire client enquires, correspondence and paperwork and to install sign boards at the tea stalls and Dhabaôs across Srinagar city as well as to make hotel booking arrangements for the higher authorities coming from the corporate office on regular basis. My total functioning was supervised and controlled by the Station Head in Srinagar Office. My duties were like a clerical in nature and field work as mentioned above. I had no independent powers and my total work functioning of duties were totally governed and supervised by the respondent (Sr. Vice-President, Mumbai, Regional Head North, Chandigarh) and the Cluster Head (Jammu) and Station Head (Srinagar) the claimed dues which has not been paid by the company/respondent. As such the whole nature of my job was not in the individual capacity but was subject to the other authorities viz. Respondent Nos. 2 & 3.

In addition to self-evidence the applicants produce one more witness namely Surinder Manhas S/o Sh. Raghuvir Singh R/o H. No. 93, Exchange Road, Jammu who on affidavit had deposed that the applicant was in the employment of Reliance Broadcast Network Ltd. (Formerly known as Adlabs Films Ltd.) and was appointed as Senior Executive Sales (Grade-E2) and initially the annual salary of the applicant was Rs. 2,00,000/- and variably pay of Rs. 20,000/- and the applicant was confirmed on 04-12-2006. Thereafter, the applicant was promoted and redesignated as Assistant Manager, Sales on 15-05-2007 at an CTC (cost to company) of Rs. 3,24,000/- and Rs. 81,000/- as Annual Team Bonus over the above the said CTC. Keeping in view the good performance of the applicant, the company/respondents revised the salary of the applicant to Rs. 5,67,000/- vide letter dated 30-04-2008.

The applicant/petitioner achieved all the targets allotted to him by the respondent/company for the financial year 2008-09. The applicant, after his forced resignation from the company was under legitimate expectation that he will be paid all the incentives/bonus which are payable vide letter dated 15-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 for the financial year 2007-08 and 2008-09 along with his full and final settlement. But the applicant was shocked and surprised to receive a cheque of Rs. 50,642/- as full and final settlement from the respondent.

The applicant did not produce more witnesses and therefore his witness was closed. The Court heard the learned counsel for the applicant/petitioner who in his pleading had stated that the petitioner is a workman as he was performing jobs relating to sales and other clerical jobs like making daily schedule for advertisement, payment collections/ delivering bills etc. With the coming into force of Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Act, 1947. Section 6 (2) of the said Act of 1976 placed the Sales Promotion Employees at par with the workmen under the Industrial Disputes Act. Reference is to Ripu Daman Bhanot V/s. the PO, Labour Court (1997) ILLJ 557 P&H, [(also (2001) ILLJ] 559 Raj & (2001) ILLJ 91 Raj.

The petitioner was appointed as Sr. Sales Executive, Grade-E2 initially in June, 2006 and predesignated as Asstt. Manager, Sales with effected from April, 2007 but the nature of duties of the petitioner remained unchanged. Subsequently, in November, 2008, the petitioner was again redesignated as Asstt. Sales Accounts Manager, Grade E2 but the during the employment of the petitioner with respondent company the job profile/ nature of duties remained unchanged and the same. At initial appointment in June, 2006, the variable pay/performance pay of the petitioner was 20,000. In April, 2007 the performance pay (quarterly) was 54,000/- further Annual Team Bonus was 81,000/- for period April, 2008-09 Quarterly Bonus was increased to Rs. 56,700/- Annually Individual Bonus was newly added @ Rs.1,41,800/- and Annually Team Bonus was enhanced to 85,100/- All these so called Bonus were performance pay based on achievements of sales targets in given year. Reference is to letters dated 01-06-2006, 15-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 annexed with the main application and sales Targets and Achieved sales may also be referred to Annexures with Rejoined filed by the petitioner. It is clear that the performance pay made to the sales employees is covered in wages definition at Section 2(rr) (iv) of Industrial Disputes Act. The said amount can be computed by the Labour Court Under Section 33-C (2) I. D. Act.

In AIR 1964 Hon'ble Supreme Court 1522 is a case titled (South Indian Bank Ltd. V/s AR Chacko) AIR 1959 Mad 401 (South Arcot Electricity Vs Elumallai & Ors.) the same view was taken. It was observed that ñUnder Section 7 of I. D. Act, 1947, Labour Courts are empowered to adjudicate on matter referred to in the second schedule ; In addition to they are given power to performò such other functions as may be assigned to them under this Act. Under Section 33-C (2) the Labour Court is expressly empowered to deal with claim of the kind that have been preferred before it. The objection raised by the respondents to this count lacking of jurisdiction on this Court/ Tribunal hence fails.

In support of second objection the attention to the second schedule to the Industrial Disputes Act, refers specifically to S. 7 of the Act. This section lays down that the appropriate Government may, by notification in the official Gazette, constitute one or more Labour Courts for the adjudication if industrial disputes relating to any matter specified in the Second Schedule and for performing such other functions as may be assigned to them under this Act. Section 33-C (2) in terms assigns the determination of the amount of benefit to which the workman is entitled to receive from the employer and which is capable of being computed in terms of money to such Labour Court as may be specified in this behalf by the appropriate Government. Clearly, therefore, the Labour Court as specified by the Government and not the Industrial Tribunal has jurisdiction to deal with this matter. But in our State of J&K we have only on Industrial Tribunal-cum-Labour Court vested with the powers to function both as Labour Court as well as Industrial Tribunal. Hence all the matters of under Schedule (2) or (3) are triable by this Court/Tribunal.

Therefore, in view of this observation this Labour Court has jurisdiction to entertain the petitions filed by the applicant/petitioner. As such, the Labour Court has jurisdiction to entertain and decide the application of the petitioner as the said benefits (performance pay) were part of cost to Company (CTC) and form part of company policy existing at the time of employment relating to the terms and conditions of the petitioner with respondent company.

In a case titled ñShantanu G. Joshi Vs. Hindustan Antibiotics Limited as 2001 (89) FLR 430, (2001) IIILLJ223 Bombay JUDGMENT by the Honôble Judge, Mr. R. M. Lodhi has observed that,ð > ñThe provision of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 (14 of 1947), as in force for the time being, shall apply to, or in relation to, Sales Promotion Employees as they apply to, or in relation to, workman within the meaning of the Act and for the purpose of any proceeding under that Act in relation to an industrial dispute, a Sales Promotion Employees shall be deemed to include a sales promotion Employee who has been dismissed, discharged or retrenched in connection with, or as a consequence of, that dispute or whose dismissal, discharge or retrenchment had led to that dispute.ò

It is thus apparent and clear that by legal fiction provided under Section 6 (2) of the Sales Promotion Employees (Conditions of Service) Act, 1976 that the provision of the Industrial Disputes Act, 1947 has been made applicable in revision to Sales Promotion Employees and they are deemed to be workmen.

The respondent company in its objection para 4 has itself admitted that the petitioner was employed for promoting sales. With the coming into force of Section 6 (2) of Sales Promotion Employees Act the petitioner (Sales Employee) is to be treated as workman. As such, the objections of the respondent company cannot be accepted that the petitioner does not fall in the definition of workman.

The respondent company has admitted that Annual Team Bonus of Rs. 85,100/- was available to the petitioner for 2008-09 in its objections (para 5) on performance basis. Further the letterôs dated 15-05-2007 and 30-04-2008 issued by the respondent company also makes it clear that the petitioner was entitled to Quarterly Bonus, Annual Team Bonus and Annual Individual Bonus which the respondent company failed to pay to the petitioner. The statements of Target achieved by the petitioner show that the petitioner achieved all the Targets of the year 2007-2008 and 2008-2009.

All the facts related to the cause of the claim have been proved by the applicant/petitioner. Hence this Court/Tribunal does not feel any objection in upholding the claim of the applicant/petitioner to be genuine and correct.

For the foregoing reasons, the case is decided in favour of the applicant and against the respondents who are were set on ex parte after filling their objections and thereafter did not attend the Court proceedings. As such the applicant/petitioner is held entitled to all the back wages including withheld all service benefits totalling to an amount of Rs. 3,83,898/-.

Accordingly the Respondents are directed to pay the aforesaid full back wages in favour of the applicant/petitioner within a period of one month failing otherwise the same shall be recovered along with interest @ 9% till final realization.

A copy of this Award/Order be sent to the Government of Jammu and Kashmir through its Commissioner/Secretary, Labour Department for information and publication in the Government Gazette.

File after its due compilation be consigned to records.
